

Council Okays Purchase Of Police Cruiser

Circleville City Council Tuesday authorized Safety Director Ed Ebert to advertise for bids for a 1976 police cruiser and to purchase a new breathalyzer machine.

David Goldschmidt, chairman of council's finance committee, reported that there is enough federal revenue sharing money to acquire both the cruiser and the machine to test the degree of intoxication of persons.

Capt. Jerry Smallwood of the Circleville Police Department had applied for matching funds for the breathalyzer according to Chief of Police Robert Temple. The city will pay $1,075.25 and the Ohio Department of Health will pay $1,075.25.

An ordinance was unanimously approved authorizing the bids for the police cruiser. Tom Wells, chairman of the safety committee, explained the cruiser that will be used for trade has over 70,000 miles and the department is putting 2,000 miles a week on it. He said it will have over 90,000 miles before a new car can be delivered.

An ordinance was also approved paying $211.50 to Bruce Liston for damage to his corn crop caused last summer while the Nicholas Drive Improvement Project was under construction.

The third ordinance approved by council authorized Circleville Planning and Zoning Commission to name one of its members to the Pickaway County Regional Planning and Zoning Commission.

A public hearing is scheduled May 25 at 8 p.m. in City Hall concerning the rezoning of a tract of land at the Morris Road-Atwater Avenue area. A request has been made to have the land rezoned from residential to apartment residential and the planning and zoning commission has recommended the area be rezoned. However, other attempts to rezone the area have been unsuccessful because of opposition from residents of the area. Councilman Steve Jones noted he has received numerous complaints concerning the proposed rezoning.

Last night's meeting of city council was recessed until 8 p.m. Monday April 26. At that meeting, council and Pickaway County Commissioners will renew $250,000 worth of Berger Hospital notes. The city and the county have underwritten the Berger Hospital Ancillary Wing construction costs so the notes may be issued although the cost of construction will be paid entirely by the hospital.

Barnhill also announced the city's annual cleanup week will be May 3 through May 7. City trucks will pick up trash that is at curbside during that week but will not pick up garbage or other normal household wastes.

A schedule of pickup will be announced by the service department.

Fire Chief Mike Brown announced that beginning Monday morning in the southeast the fire department will begin its annual flushing of hydrants. Because of the flushing, there will be rusty water in the lines at times. The chief cautioned housewives to check the water before doing their washing next week.

Service Director Atwood Jones announced the service department has been taking advantage of the unseasonably dry weather to raise manhole covers on Northridge Road. The hot weather has also caused some streets to "bleed" and these streets are being sanded, he said.

Don Wolfe reported crews are to begin working on the south end water tower today.

Cub Pack 130 visited council as a part of a Scouting Bicentennial Program.

Mayor Barnhill called council's attention to city's budget, stating the city could be in a serious financial situation by Sept. 1. "You must either decrease expenditures or increase revenue," he told council. The mayor suggested that council consider either increasing the one half of one per cent income tax to one per cent or approve legislation to have the income tax increase on the ballot.

Goldschmidt told the mayor the present lack of money is a "cash-flow" problem rather than a lack of fiscal responsibility on the part of council. He emphasized that at this point anticipated expenditures does not exceed anticipated revenue.

Rubber Workers Strike

CLEVELAND (AP) — United Rubber Workers struck the rubber industry's Big Four nationwide today despite a last-minute Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. offer that included an uncapped cost-of-living adjustment.

Master contracts that expired at midnight with Firestone, Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., B.F. Goodrich Co. and Uniroyal Inc. covered about 60,000 of the URW's 190,000 members.

Peter Bommarito, URW international president, said Firestone's proposed total hourly wage increase of $1.15 over three years, 60 cents of it in the first year, "is short on what we need for a cost-of-living wage catchup for 1976 alone."

Firestone said it considered its offer to be "in the best interests of the employees, the country's continuing economic recovery and the company."

Any settlement with Firestone was to set the pattern for the rest of the Big Four.

Bommarito said the URW's total economic demands represented a 42 per cent increase over the current average package of $9.05 per hour that included wages of $5.50.

Negotiations with Firestone broke up at 2 a.m. and were scheduled to resume this afternoon.

Talks with the rest of the Big Four were to continue today, although a Goodyear negotiator in Cincinnati where that company's sessions were centered said that because of the intense efforts with Firestone, "everything is up in the air." Uniroyal sessions were in New York and Goodrich meetings were in Columbus.

Besides the strike, the URW also launched a worldwide plea for a consumer boycott of Firestone products.

Initial reports as picket lines went up from Massachusetts to Los Angeles indicated a "quiet, orderly strike," as an official at one of the 47 plants put it, though there was a brief window-breaking spree at Firestone's main Akron plant.

The strike, the second nationwide shutdown in U.S. industry within a month, was expected to have little immediate effect outside the Big Four. Automakers said they had stockpiled enough tires to last up to four weeks, depending on the type of car and rate of production.

But the carmakers also said a lengthy strike would cut into operations at some point because assembly lines require such parts as hoses, floor mats, belts, and gaskets as well as tires.

Government and industrial officials, concerned with possible inflationary trends, have been watching the URW talks for signs as to what to expect in other major contract talks later this year. The rubber industry is the first major manufacturing group to face bargaining since the U.S. economic recovery began.

The master Teamsters Union contract reached after a brief recent nationwide strike included wage and fringe benefit increases totaling about 30 per cent.

Firestone said its cost-of-living adjustment was patterned after the agreement the URW's Canadian branch accepted in 1974. The Canadian URW bargains separately about one year after the U.S. talks.

Firestone also said its offer contained improved pensions, life insurance, survivor income and disability benefits and early retirement benefits.

Bommarito countered that "it does not provide rubber workers with any meaningful new money."

Consumer Bill Near Passage

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Sellers of goods and services to Ohio's consumers would have to be more responsible for their products under a bill now near passage in the legislature.

Senators added their approval 27-5 Tuesday to a House measure which, according to sponsors, corrects a consumer pitfall almost as old as the nation itself.

It repeats the so-called "holder in due course" doctrine, under which a buyer, after signing an installment payment contract, has it sold to a finance company or possibly a bank.

The financial institution then uses whatever resources it has available to collect the balance, without being responsible if something goes wrong with the item purchased. Under existing law, in most instances, neither is the merchant responsible.

Under the pending measure, which must go back to the House for consideration of Senate amendments, the buyer can withhold payments, citing the damaged goods as justification.

The Senate sponsor, Sen. Neal F. Zimmers Jr., D-5 Dayton, said the defective merchandise or shabby service provides a legal defense in court from efforts to collect the balance, applying pressure on the seller to make good on his part of the transactions.

For the past several sessions of the legislature, the bill has been under consideration in one house or the other, but this is the first time it has cleared both houses.

Zimmers said Ohio is among only six states which haven't as yet repealed the doctrine "which goes back in history almost 200 years." He also said the federal government moved earlier this year to outlaw its use in transactions covered by interstate commerce laws.

In other actions Tuesday, as the Senate and House plunged into heavy floor calendars upon return from a week's Easter recess, the Senate approved and sent the House a measure that exempts delayed grain sale contracts from Ohio's personal intangible tax. The vote was 30-3.

Over objections by some that the bill would cost libraries across the state about $400,000 a year statewide, senators agreed the legislation was needed to give equal treatment to farmers who don't have their own grain storage facilities but instead rely on commercial storage to take advantage of grain sale futures' opportunities.

Libraries are a main beneficiary of the intangibles tax which is levied by counties on items of value such as stocks, bonds and other negotiable securities.

In other action, the House concurred in Senate changes in four House bills, sending them to Gov. James A. Rhodes for his consideration.

They provide for statewide voter registration by November 1977, allow the sale of liquor on election day, prohibit natural gas companies from charging residential customers for emergency gas supplies purchased on the unregulated market for industry and create a new type of liquor license for establishments located in enclosed shopping center malls.

The House refused 89-3 to agree with Senate changes in a bill that makes certain revisions in Ohio's two-year-old code of ethics law for public officials. The point of disagreement was a Senate amendment that exempted members of school boards from the law's financial disclosure requirements. The bill now is expected to go to a Senate-House conference committee.

Municipal Judge On State Ballot

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Cleveland Municipal Court Judge Sara J. Harper has qualified to appear on the primary ballot as a candidate for Supreme Court Justice, Secretary of State Ted Brown said Tuesday.

Brown said Tuesday that he has accepted 97 signatures of persons previously disqualified on nominating petitions because they were not members of the Republican party.

He said the decision was in line with rulings made last week to permit two presidential candidates to appear on the statewide ballot for the June 8 primary. At that time, Brown said there was ambiguity in the state statutes dealing with party affiliation.

Harper filed a protest with Brown's office after she was ruled off the ballot for being 18 signatures short of the 1,000 necessary to qualify.

Ford Gets Speedy Tax Refund: $11,631

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford, who paid $94,568.93 in 1975 federal income taxes, only waited a couple of weeks to get a refund check of $11,631.07 from the Internal Revenue Service.

Ford's press secretary, Ron Nessen, released on Tuesday a detailed report on Ford's income tax return, showing the President made $251,991.24 last year and had taxable income of $204,605.83.

Nessen said Ford's tax forms were filed earlier this month and that he received his refund check during the past week.

When asked why Ford "seems to get speedier service (from the IRS) than the rest of us," Nessen gave no answer other than to smile.

Nessen said Ford paid $38,200 more in federal taxes in 1975 than he did the previous year.

Gross income included the President's salary, his $50,000 expense account and $1,991.24 in savings account interest, small dividends and a net return on rental property the Fords own in Virginia, Michigan and Colorado.

"The President hopes this will be a model for the degree of detail on tax information that all candidates should issue to the voters whom they are asking to elevate them to the presidency," Nessen said.

Nessen said $106,200 tax was withheld from Ford's weekly paycheck.

Ford claimed $750 personal exemptions for himself and his wife and three of his four children. He did not claim son Steve, who is working part time on a ranch in California.

When the federal taxes are added to state and local tax payments of $11,941.91, Nessen said, they accounted for 42 per cent of the family's gross income — the same percentage as in 1974 when the Ford's gross income was some $104,000 lower because the President had earned a White House salary for only five months of the year.

The Ford's 1975 state, local and other taxes were nearly double the 1974 figure of $5,985. The President's higher income largely accounted for that, Nessen said.

Of his $50,000 expense account, Ford deducted $23,000 as business expenses. The largest single item in this category was the cost of buying and mailing 35,000 Christmas cards.

Nessen said the Fords spent the other $27,000 in expense money, but could not deduct it because it was used for private entertaining.

The Fords deducted charitable contributions of $6,759.34 for 1975, up from $5,845 a year earlier. Nessen said most of the contributions represented relatively small donations to a large number of organizations such as the Boy Scouts and the American Red Cross.

Advances By Boss Discrimination

WASHINGTON (AP) — If you lose your job or a promotion because you won't play games behind the filing cabinet with the boss, you may be able to make a federal case out of it.

A federal judge ruled here Tuesday that a worker who resists the boss' sexual advances may sue for sexual discrimination if the worker loses his or her job or is denied advancement.

The decision is apparently the first in which the 1964 Civil Rights Act has been successfully invoked by a worker charging sexual discrimination.

Although U.S. District Judge Charles Richey's decision was made in the case of a female worker, he said his ruling also applies to a male worker who resists the overtures of a female boss, and to a worker who is imposed upon by a homosexual supervisor.

But Richey said there probably would be no grounds for a suit under sex discrimination statutes if a supervisor were bisexual and made demands on employees of each sex.

Richey's decision came in a case involving a female Justice Department worker who lost her job in 1972.

A department hearing examiner ordered Diane Williams reinstated with back pay after finding that she was subjected to sexual discrimination in her job as a public information specialist.

However, a higher level review officer set aside that decision, prompting Miss Williams to file the suit she won Tuesday. The judge did not award her damages or pay, but said he would decide that issue later.

Callaghan Skips Party For Queen

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister James Callaghan stayed away from Queen Elizabeth's 50th birthday ball, and one newspaper suggested he feared attendance might hurt his chances of selling austerity to the unions.

"Should the prime minister be seen dancing the night away in an atmosphere of diamonds and champagne when he is trying to persuade the unions to accept minimal wage increases and further cuts in living standards?" the Daily Express asked.

Other newspaper commentators suggested that the 64-year-old Labor party veteran stayed home because he is a teetotaler and doesn't like late parties.

The official explanation from No. 10 Downing St. was that Callaghan, in office just 15 days, was unable to attend "because of pressure of work." The statement said the queen invited him to dinner next week when they would have a better chance to talk.

Callaghan's two immediate predecessors, Harold Wilson and Edward Heath, interrupted vacations to be among the 530 guests Tuesday night at Windsor Castle. Margaret Thatcher, Heath's successor as leader of the Conservative party, attended with her husband. And both Princess Margaret and her estranged husband, Lord Snowdon, were there.

The party began with dinner for 60. The rest of the guests arrived at 10:30 p.m. The dancers paused at midnight to toast the queen and sing "Happy Birthday." There was another pause at 2:40 a.m., the exact time at which Elizabeth was born on April 21, 1926, to the wife of the future King George VI.

Senate OKs Tax Break

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Senate approved 30-3 and sent the House on Tuesday a measure designed to provide farmers with a new tax break.

Sen. Gene Slagle, D-26 Galion, said his bill exempts from the state's intangible property tax delayed pricing contracts for sales of grain.

Opponents, including Sen. Jerome P. Stano, D-24 Parma, argued that the measure would take away tax revenues from libraries—which benefit from the intangibles tax—and at the same time permit farmers to play the grain market the same way others play the stock market.

Slagle contended the legislation is needed to correct an inequity in existing laws which provide exemptions for storage and sales of grain but not for delayed pricing contracts.

Present law discriminates against farmers who do not have storage facilities, Slagle said.

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market stepped ahead briskly again today, building on its heady climb through the 1,000 level in the Dow Jones industrial average on Tuesday.

That average of 30 industrial stock prices was up more than two points after opening trades, and rising New York Stock Exchange issues held a 3-1 lead on those declining.

The Dow has jumped nearly 23 points this week in enthusiasm over the economy's growth in the first three months of the year as measured by the Gross National Product.

And the Commerce Department said Monday that the GNP price deflator, a measure of inflation, posted its lowest rate of increase since 1972 during the first quarter.

At the start of trading today, the Labor Department said the consumer price index during the same period rose at its lowest three-month pace in almost four years.

Today's early prices included American Telephone & Telegraph, up 1/4 at 56 1/2; General Electric, up 1/4 at 54; and U.S. Steel, up 1/4 at 81 1/2.

On Tuesday the Dow Jones industrial average shot up 15.35 to close at 1,003.46. The advance was broadly based, with rising NYSE issues taking a 12-3 lead on those declining.

Volume rose to 23.50 million shares. The NYSE composite index of all its listed common stocks rose .80 to 54.76.

At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index climbed .97 to 103.06.

Logan Elm Tomahawk Presented To LEHS

LOGAN ELM — Standing in front of the Logan Elm School sign holding a tomahawk with the haft made from the famous Logan Elm Tree are from the left: Sgt. Robert Ely, Dan Stevenson and Paul Brown. The school presented the highest bid to the Easter Seal Society for the tomahawk made by Sgt. Ely to aid the crippled. Brown, assistant principal of Logan Elm High School, initiated the project and Stevenson, a student, organized an assembly at the school to encourage other students to participate. The tomahawk will be encased in glass and placed in the entrance hall of the high school.

Logan Elm High School now has a part of the famous Logan Elm tree where Chief Logan made his famous speech, dictated to John Gibson, scout for the British Lord Dunmore. The piece of the tree has been fashioned into a spiked tomahawk by Sgt. Robert Ely of the Ohio State Highway Patrol.

Sgt. Ely donated the tomahawk to the Easter Seal Society who sold it to the highest bidder to aid in the fight against crippling diseases, including birth defects.

Paul Brown, assistant principal of Logan Elm High School, initiated the drive to raise funds to purchase the tomahawk as he believed it should be in the school. He was aided by Dan Stevenson, a student who not only wanted to have the tomahawk in the school, but was greatly interested in help for the Easter Seal Society.

Stevenson organized an assembly at the high school to encourage students to make donations and urge their parents to help. Brown sent letters to the parents and all area residents asking for donations and the result of the concentrated efforts was the amount of $672.82, the largest bid by any individual or group.

The tomahawk will be placed in a case where all who come to the school will have the opportunity to view it. The students from the other five schools in the district will spend three years in the school and can be proud of their contribution to the school and to

Mental Health Clinic Okayed

The Pickaway County Mental Health Clinic located at Berger Hospital was one of five Community Mental Health programs approved for fiscal year 1977 by the Paint Valley Mental Health and Mental Retardation Board.

Fiscal year 1977 runs from July 1, 1976, to June 30, 1977.

The Board approved the Circleville clinic, as well as the Scioto-Paint Valley Guidance Center, the Five-County Pastoral Counseling Program, the Pike County Mental Health Clinic, and the Highland County Mental Health Clinic at its April 14 meeting.

During this meeting, the Paint Valley Mental Health and Mental Retardation Board also approved two Federal Grant applications for drug abuse treatment services.

Programs submitting proposals for federal drug abuse funds were the Pike County Drug Council and the Scioto-Paint Valley Guidance Center.

The Guidance Center proposal would add a drug treatment counselor to the Pickaway County Mental Health Clinic, as well as offer a 24 hour crisis intervention phone line that would be available to Pickaway County, toll free.

The budget approved for fiscal year 1977 totals $669,661.00, which includes Federal, State, and Local funds.

The Paint Valley Mental Health and Mental Retardation board (648 Board) is responsible for planning and funding mental health programs in a five-county catchment area which includes Pickaway, Ross, Fayette, Highland, and Pike Counties.

Representatives on the Board from Pickaway County are Mrs. Margaret Barnes and James Butler.

the Easter Seal Society.

Chief Logan was a friend of both the white men and the Indians. He spent many years endeavoring to bring peace to the country and was disheartened when the fighting increased and every member of his family was slain.

Ely said that in 1965 he began making reproductions of metal tomahawks; and, still later, the idea of using the Logan Elm wood as a haft for some of them came to mind.

On the early afternoon, of May 15, 1961, the wrath of a violent storm with tornado winds passed through Pickaway County. Several trees in the Circleville area were blown over; Ohio's famed Logan Elm tree also fell victim to this storm. It had been cared for by tree surgeons for many years and the limbs were reinforced with chains.

The haft of the tomahawk is made from part of the tree. Sgt. Ely took a three-foot long section of wood to a sawmill and had it sawed into two-inch thicknesses. Many people learned he had this wood and he gave away three-fourths of the original amount.

The tomahawk is made of brass with a steel cutting edge. It is engraved on one side "Logan Elm, 1774-1974." The 1774 date is when Chief Logan made his speech under the famous elm tree. The date of 1974 was when Ely made the tomahawk 200 years later. On the other side of the tomahawk, Ely engraved a picture of the Logan Elm Tree. Of the 87 tomahawks that Ely has made, only six are from the wood of the Logan Elm Tree.

The idea of raising money for the bid was presented at a Logan Elm School sports banquet by Brown. Also participating were 4-H Clubs and the Pickaway Twp. Fire Department and Auxiliary. Brown expressed his gratitude to all individuals and organizations for their efforts in the project.

Consumer Price Figures Released

WASHINGTON (AP) — Falling prices at the gasoline pump and the third big monthly drop in grocery costs held the rise in consumer prices to two-tenths of a per cent in March, the government said today.

The March increase compared with February's consumer price rise of one-tenth of a per cent and an increase of four-tenths of a per cent in January. The January-to-March figures left consumers with the lowest three-month inflation rate in almost four years.

VFY Meets With New Member

Six members of the Board of Trustees of the Pickaway County Volunteers for Youth met Tuesday afternoon at the YMCA.

Newest board member present was Dudley Radcliffe, recently employed by the Pickaway County Juvenile Court as a probation officer.

Edith Downing requested that VFY rent a post office box for collection of the organization's mail. The motion passed unanimously.

Also approved was a suggestion by Tom Downing that VFY purchase liability insurance coverage for volunteers.

Tom Tootle reported that the finance committee has completed application, to Battelle Memorial Institute for funding to hire a full-time coordinator. He expressed doubt, however, that the grant would be approved as the Institute does not generally offer grants for operational expenses.

Diane Berger announced that the annual meeting of the Ohio Association of volunteers on Criminal Justice would be held Thursday at Ohio Dominican College. Election of state officers will be held, followed by workshops in three topic areas.

Marsha Schneider presented a report on a training program used by the Washington C.H. volunteer organization. It featured Karkhuff's empathy training and evaluation of volunteer skills. The board requested additional information on the program to determine the feasibility of incorporating it as an in-service training session.

Secretary-treasurer Dieter Droste will represent VFY at the April meeting of the Community Fund.

Mrs. Downing announced that the next in-service training session will be held May 12 with officials from Circleville City Schools discussing policies which affect junior and senior high school students.

The Labor Department said the increase for the three months ending in March — a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 2.9 per cent — was the smallest three-month increase since June 1972. It compared with an average increase of about 7 per cent for each calendar quarter in 1975.

Lower beef prices led the decline at grocery counters where prices fell another 1.2 per cent in March. Grocery prices fell 1.5 per cent in February after a decline of four-tenths of a per cent in January.

Gasoline prices fell 1.3 per cent instead of moving up as they usually do in March.

The administration has warned that the low first-quarter inflation rate reflected unusually favorable food and fuel costs that could not be sustained.

Inflation, as measured by the consumer price index, increased at an annual rate of 4.4 per cent during the December-February period — about half the rate of a year ago.

Consumer prices rose one-tenth of 1 per cent in February after increases of four-tenths of one per cent in January and five-tenths of one per cent in December.

The Agriculture Department reported earlier this month that consumer food prices on the average held steady early this year, but cautioned shoppers to expect increases in the coming months, although at a slower rate than in recent years.

Although Agriculture Department officials so far have declined to predict food prices beyond mid-year, previous estimates indicated that consumers might see food costs go up an average of 5 to 6 per cent over the entire 12 months, compared with a gain of 8.5 per cent in 1975.

The leveling off of food prices was largely due to sharp declines in meat prices, which officials say have already started climbing.

Several major oil companies recently announced increases in gasoline prices, which had declined in late 1975. But Comiez said gasoline prices usually rise at this time of the year and unless the new increases are larger than the normal seasonal push they may not be reflected in the consumer price index.

Services, including rent, insurance rates and medical costs have been the fastest rising component in the consumer price index in recent months, and officials say there has been no sign of any slowdown in this area.

Circleville High Key Club Celebrates 20th Anniversary

ANNIVERSARY PARTY — The Circleville High School Key Club observed its 20th anniversary Monday. Pictured with present Key Club officers are Harold Clifton who was president of Circleville Kiwanis Club when the Key Club was organized, and Ray Cundiff, present Kiwanis president.

By TOMSPRING Herald Staff Writer

The Circleville High School Key Club held its 20th anniversary celebration and installation of officers Monday night at Community United Methodist Church. The club provided an evening of fellowship and dinner with the Circleville Kiwanis Club, which sponsors the Key Club, and special guests.

Key Club International is a high school service organization composed of over 88,000 members in the United States, Canada, Mexico and the Philippines. It has the distinction of being the only high school club sponsored by a civic organization — Kiwanis International. In Ohio there are over 160 clubs devoted to community and school service and providing social activities and vocational guidance for members.

1975-76 President Steve Penn presided, and remarked that the Stooze and Hi-Y clubs folded and other school clubs have lost membership this year. "However," he said, "Key Club has increased from 34 members to 41." The continuing high standards of developing "key" young men has made the local club "the key club at Circleville High School."

Local member and Immediate Past Ohio District Treasurer Larry Schieber gave a resume of Circleville's activities at the Ohio District Convention held at the Biltmore Towers Hotel in Dayton April 9-10.

Circleville placed third in the scrapbook contest and third in the Gold section for total achievement. Achievement, undoubtedly the most important of all awards, is based on school service projects, community projects, assistance to Kiwanis, fund raising projects and special events.

Out-going President Steve Penn announced some of the projects the club completed to win the achievement plaque.

School service projects included holding a dance after a basketball game, co-sponsoring the Underprivileged Children's Party, producing a banner honoring last year's AP champion basketball team, sponsoring the Circleville Key Club Reserve Wrestling Tournament and sponsoring the club's annual faculty-student ping-pong tournament.

Community service projects completed by the club include giving Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets to the needy, decorating Pickaway Manor for Christmas, and sponsoring a foster child through Christian Children's Services.

They made cash donations to the American Cancer Society, Easter Seals, the lung association, the City of Hope and the Senior Citizens Center. Key Club also donated a teaching aid to Brooks-Yates School for the Mentally Retarded and gave them cash to fund a Christmas dinner for the students.

The club helped Kiwanis in its Pumpkin Show booth, Easter Egg hunt and Charity Newsie drive, and the Moundbuilders' Kids' Day Peanut Sale. Members of both clubs exchanged visits at club meetings.

The club's Pumpkin Show float won first place. Members also participated in the 1975 Community Clean-up campaign, and held interclubs with other Key Clubs in Division 10-S.

Officers of this year's prize winning club were Steve Penn, president, Tom Scherer, vice-president, Dan DeFrank, secretary, and Tom Farynowski, treasurer.

George Kiel, Immediate Past Ohio District Key Club Governor and Fred Gander, 1976-77 Ohio District Governor installed new officers for the coming year. They are Tom Scherer, president, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scherer, 610 Garden Parkway; Paul Johnson, vice-president, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Johnson, 585 Woodland Drive; Dan DeFrank, secretary, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent DeFrank, 680 Hawthorne Drive; and Tom Fullen, treasurer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Fullen, 103 Northridge Road.

Circleville is the home club for Mark Rustin, the 1976-77 lieutenant governor of Division 10-S and Ohio District trustee. Rustin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Rustin, 680 Ridgewood Drive.

The formation of a local Key Club was a major goal for 1955 Kiwanis President Harold Clifton who described the beginning of the club. He set up the first Key Club Committee of Kiwanians that year to help form a club. Members of the committee were the Rev. Charles Reed, chairman; George Hartman, superintendent of Circleville City Schools, J. Wray Henry, high school principal, Dr. W. L. Sprouse, Virgil Cress, R. Seward and H. K. Lannan.

The committee set-up the club through school officials and financial help from Kiwanis. The charter party was held December 19, 1955 at Circleville High School with virtually all local Kiwanians present. Eighteen charter members elected George Kerr, president, Eddie Walters, vice-president, Dale Wilkerson, secretary, Charles Gerhardt, treasurer, Richard Greeno, sergeant-at-arms, Richard Banks, Michael Kirkpatrick and Ronald Stucker, directors. Crawford Bradley was the faculty adviser.

Since then, the club has become well known throughout the school and community for its various service, social and fundraising projects.

The club has worked together with the Kiwanis Club, developing a reliance on each other to work together on joint projects and making them succeed to the benefit of both.

Key Club in the past has co-sponsored many different activities with Circleville Kiwanis and held dinner-dances with Lancaster H.S. Key Club.

The Key Club stage band held several concerts and won second place in talent at the 1971-72 district convention. The club co-sponsored the Teays Valley H.S. Key Club with the Ashville Kiwanis Club, holding the charter party in the fall of 1972.

Probably the most notable club in its 20 year history was the 1964-65 club under President Dick Crable which won first place in total achievement over 147 other Ohio clubs and traveled to the international convention in New York for further competition.

Past Presidents of the local Key Club are: George Kerr, 1955-56; T. Krinn, 1956-57; M. Hosler, 1957-58; T. Greeno, 1958-59; R. Fyffe, 1959-60; Phil Wing, 1960-61; Terry Robinson, 1961-62; Eddie Wright, 1962-63; George Grigg, 1963-64; Dick Crable, 1964-65; Roger Grigg, 1965-66; Thomas Evans, 1966-67; Michael Hulse, 1967-68; John Brobst, 1968-69; Mark Frericks, 1969-70; Jim Baker, 1970-71; W. David Winner, 1971-72; Jeff Jones, 1972; Dan Goeglein, 1972-73; Dick Huskey, 1973-74; Dave Harman, 1974-75; and Steve Penn, 1975-76.

Past Ohio District officers from the local club include Eddie Wright, lieutenant governor and trustee, 1962-63; Dick Crable, lieutenant governor and trustee, 1963-64; Tom Spring, lieutenant governor and trustee, 1972-73; Larry Schieber, treasurer, 1975-76.

Past faculty advisers are Crawford Bradley, 1955-56; Gordon Anderson, 1956-60; Stan Spring, 1960-65; Robert Long, 1965-66; David Beavers, 1966-68; Fred Goeglein, 1968-69; Alan Schull, 1969-70; William Rosengarten, 1970-73; John Edgar, 1973-74; and Jim Funk, 1974-present.

Kiwanis advisers have included Spring, Goeglein, Rosengarten, Shull, Bruce Bell, Roscoe Warren and Richard Wylie.

Current president of the sponsoring Kiwanis Club is Ray Cundiff. Members of the Key Club committee are Richard Penn, chairman, William Rosengarten, William Bradshaw and Stan Spring.

the way to save time

A Page Of Opinion

That Time Again

Already it has begun — advice to the would-be gardeners who had hoped to prolong their off-season idleness a little longer.

Now is the time, according to those who dispense the advice, to get at those weeds. A vigorous attack now will save much time and energy later, we are told. If weeds are not mastered early in the season, they will take possession of the field.

All of which unfortunately is true, as the gardener is forced to admit after looking at his plot. Weeds seem to be better adapted to taking advantage of good growing weather than cultivated crops.

They appear overnight, add inches to their stature seemingly in a few hours, and soon they are seven feet tall and ready to go to seed.

There are always weeds too close to the rows to be handled by modern mechanized methods. Therefore it is necessary to take hold and pull.

It is not exactly fun, but to get in the spirit of the game is to experience a certain savage joy. It is a pleasure to see the serried ranks fall and then wilt in the sun. It is even a pleasure to yank the interlopers out by the roots and place them in a pile to wither and die.

With weeds as with other things, the bigger they are the harder they fall. Except that the process soon begins anew.

Equal Rights

By JIM BISHOP

The first Equal Rights candidate for president was Victoria Claflin Woodhull, who was 34 when she ran in 1872. She tried to vote in New York and spent election day in jail. Her opponent, Ulysses S. Grant, had never heard of Mrs. Woodhull.

Victoria was a daisy indeed. She was born in Homer, Ohio, in 1838, one of 10 children. Her father was a part-time nut, suspected of arson; her mother was a spiritualist who conjured voices from beyond.

The citizens of Homer ordered Daddy Claflin to leave; they staged a benefit performance to get enough money for mother and the children to go.

Mrs. Claflin earned money bringing back the voices of the dead and making tables levitate. Victoria and her sister Tennessee made a buddy of a dead Greek named Diogenes and spoke to him every day.

This could not have been rewarding because he had spent centuries looking for an honest man, while Victoria had been hunting a gullible one. She found

Dr. Canning Woodhull and married him before she was 16.

She and Tennessee went from town to town in Ohio with a combination medicine and spiritualist show. "Victoria old Elixir of Life by the bottle with a drawing of Tennessee on the label. Their brother Hebern lectured as a cancer specialist.

Victoria had two children and decided Dr. Woodhull was dispensable. At the close of the Civil War, the young lady and her children traveled with Col. James Blood. She claimed to have married him. He made no claims upon her.

The sisters reached New York in 1868, and were magnetized to the person of the elder Cornelius Vanderbilt. He was (1) super rich, and (2) super-sold on spiritualism. Victoria and Tennessee took the old goat on some scenes that almost spun his wallet free.

They helped him talk to the spirits. He gave them tips on the stock market. They became rich and opened a brokerage office for suckers who believed.

They also published a magazine, "Woodhull and Claflin's Weekly." In 1871, it advocated equal rights, free love, birth control and opposed prostitution and abortion. The editor (Victoria) proposed Victoria as candidate for president of the United States.

If it is true that Victoria could make the dead talk, it was equally true that she was one heck of a speaker herself. Women were enthused about her, but they had to devise ways to make their men vote for Victoria.

The public record states merely that Victoria Woodhull got "a few thousand votes." Still, it was a first. Mrs. Woodhull admitted later that she had an affair with a young reporter, Theodore Tilton, but, she said, she ended it after six months.

Cornelius Vanderbilt died in 1877. There was a cry of outrage from his children and grandchildren about a will. No one was specific about the outrage, but Victoria and Tennessee departed for England with a lot of fresh money.

In Great Britain, as strangers with nothing to do, Victoria married a wealthy British banker named John Martin. Tennessee married the Viscount de Monserrat.

The ladies weren't sure whether this made them British, or made Americans of their husbands. Both were busy with charitable works in London when Victoria ran for president of the U.S. in 1892. In New York, crooked politicians threw the women's suffrage vote into the river.

The sisters lectured, levitated and liberated all over England. They published a magazine, "The Humanitarian," bought presumably by dull Britons trying to ascertain what their wives were thinking about.

When Victoria and Tennessee tired of this, they made trips to America featuring sensational press conferences. They were old and bent, but the fire was still on their tongues.

It is hardly newsworthy to mention that, of course, Victoria buried the banker and resurrected his millions. Of course Lady Cook buried the Viscount and revealed at his Portuguese estates.

Both ladies knew how to live and when to die. Tennessee was 88 in 1923 when she nodded off in a nap. Victoria was 92 when she died in 1927.

Victoria lived to see women achieve the right to vote. None of them wanted to acknowledge that Victoria Claflin Woodhull, that gorgeous fake, was the true mother of the movement . . .

Swimming Pool Dedication Slated

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A swimming pool at the state School for the Blind will be dedicated May 9 and will be open for use, said Martin W. Essex, superintendent of public instruction.

Earlier a school administrator said the pool would be dedicated but would not be operated because no funds were appropriated by the state legislature.

The Department said that the funding question was resolved when legislation for teacher pay schedules was enacted and signed by Gov. James A. Rhodes on April 5.

Agnew Book On Stands

NEW YORK (AP) — Spiro T. Agnew's much-ballyhooed novel about a future vice president has something for just about everyone: an ambitious politician, a liberal adviser, a beautiful Cabinet officer, Israelis, Arabs, Russians and Chinese.

It is one of those books that seems designed to make people wonder, "Who do you suppose he's really writing about?"

The book jacket describes the writer, "The author, Spiro T. Agnew, lives in Arnold, Maryland, not far in miles from Washington, D.C. He travels the world. He was formerly Vice President of the United States."

The 344-page book, "The Canfield Decision," is being published by Playboy Press. Publication date is May 17, but a Playboy Press spokesman said distribution to bookstores started about 10 days ago. It retails for $8.95.

The Agnew book is the latest in a series of novels by wellknown political figures. William F. Buckley Jr. and former New York City Mayor John V. Lindsay also have published novels this year.

California Indians pounded acorns into a flour from which porridge and bread were made.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Every morning when I get up I have the sensation of a lump in my throat. It seems to disappear as the morning goes by. Sometimes it comes back at night. My doctor can't find any reason for it. I'm sure you can understand my fear.

Dear Mrs. T.:
Many patients complain to their doctors about a "lump in the throat." This vague symptom rarely has important meaning. Sometimes, adults who have had their tonsils removed have a slight amount of tonsillar tissue running down the back of the tongue. This tissue is known as a "lingual tonsil."

After a cold or sinus infection, these lingual tonsils may become swollen and cause the symptom you describe.

Smokers of cigarettes, pipes and cigars frequently complain of another symptom, that is, dryness of the mouth and difficulty in swallowing. Some drugs, like the antihistamines for allergy, may be responsible for this.

Lingual tonsils can be readily seen by "mirror examination." This should be done to find the reason for your discomfort and to alleviate your anxiety.

Can anything be done to restore the sense of smell after it has been gone for eight years?
Mr. E. B. J., Ind.

Dear Mr. J.:
The time factor is not nearly as important as the cause. Chronic infection of the sinuses or allergies, or the combination of both, are the frequent causes of diminished ability to smell. Almost always associated with the loss of smell is the loss of taste. This combination is most distressing.

Polyps of the nose and scar tissue following surgery may also be a factor in reducing the sense of smell.

Some physicians have been using small doses of cortisone in an effort to restore the sense of smell. In some instances it is very effective.

Attention must be devoted to finding the basic underlying reasons for the loss of smell before any treatment program can be started.

Shady Ladies Plan Capital Convention

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some shady ladies plan to join the tourist crush on the nation's capital this Bicentennial summer when they gather here for the third annual National Hookers Convention, a meeting complete with rallies, speeches and lobbying on Capitol Hill.

The hookers are coming to Washington to mount a national campaign to decriminalize prostitution and they figure the best place to start is where the laws are made, says Margo St. James, recently in town to organize the convention.

"It's time for a revolutionary attitude toward hookers," she said in an interview. "That's why we picked Washington, during the Bicentennial."

Miss St. James is the founder — or "chairmadam" as she puts it — of "COYOTE" — "Call Off Your Old Tired Ethics" — a San Francisco-based group which says the criminal stigma should be removed from prostitution.

The convention, scheduled for June 25-26, will be open to the public since "we want community participation," Miss St. James said. She added that she expected several hundred hookers from the East and West coasts, as well as a chartered plane load from Europe.

"Our goal is to make as much noise as possible," the 38-year-old woman said. "We're out to educate the public. It's not an issue that affects most women directly, so it's harder to sell as a political problem. The main thing is to get a dialogue going."

The first two conventions, in 1974 and 1975, were in San Francisco.

Police Probe Under Way In Newark

NEWARK, Ohio (AP) — Mayor Richard Baker, the safety director and 17 police department employees were to appear starting today before a Licking County grand jury investigating allegations of payoffs, theft and solicitation for murder in the police department.

Licking County Prosecutor Neil Laughlin said he subpoenaed Police Chief Arthur Nutter and Chief of Detectives Ned Ashton to help clarify rumors of thefts by policemen.

Information about reported payoffs, embezzlement, payment for services and interstate solicitation for murder also will be brought to the grand jury's attention, Laughlin said.

Rob Benson, a Newark Advocate reporter, also has been subpoenaed to discuss the newspaper's continuing investigation of the police department.

Laughlin said the grand jury also will look into questions directed to him by city Solicitor Robert Hendricks and Safety Director Ray Starr, who made their own investigation.

Hendricks and Starr began their investigation after complaints of a police coverup in connection with a March 23 incident involving a police sergeant and an East End woman. The sergeant was suspended 16 days for misconduct and the suspension upheld by Starr.

Federal Revenue Sharing To Local Governments Totals $2,225,277

Political subdivisions in Pickaway County will have received more than $2,225,277 when the present Federal Revenue Sharing program enacted by Congress in 1972 ends this Dec. 31.

A renewal of the no-strings-attached federal program was recently voted out of sub-committee by a very close 7-6 margin. At this point, passage of a renewal of the program is by no means certain.

The prolonged delay on the part of Congress is creating an extremely uncertain economic situation for local governments who must prepare 1977 fiscal budgets by July.

Most of the local subdivisions have made an effort to spend Federal Revenue Sharing funds on capital improvements rather than salaries or other general fund expenditures for routine operations.

Pickaway County Commissioners have used the money to acquire much needed equipment for all departments and especially for the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department. It has even been used for salaries in the sheriff's department to beef up the staff of deputies.

Should it fail to be renewed, law enforcement in Pickaway County could be severely curtailed according to the county commissioners. The commissioners also utilized federal revenue sharing to purchase the Brown property south of the court house with an eye toward providing needed office space.

Other major expenditures by county officials include the new roof at Memorial Hall and improvements at Pickaway County Memorial Airport.

Circleville also has made an effort to utilize federal revenue sharing for capital improvements rather than for salaries and services.

Much of the city's share of the Nicholas Drive Improvement Project was funded with the federal revenue sharing money. Federal funds were also used for the Ted Lewis Park entrance, to purchase real estate adjacent to the city garage, to acquire the Shell Oil Property on West Main Street (Firehouse No. 2).

Should Congress fail to enact the no-strings revenue sharing, city officials say they will be forced to enact another one half of one per cent income tax to continue providing services to the citizens of Circleville.

Commissioners have not considered alternative income sources in the event the program is defeated.

Greg Bigam, who is in charge of coordinating federal programs for Pickaway County, says that Congress will undoubtedly approve some kind of federal aid program for local governments.

However, he said that as far as local governments are concerned, the federal revenue sharing program is the best assistance to come from Washington, D.C.

The county commissioners will have received $909,854. The City of Circleville will have received $518,534 as the bulk of the funds have gone to these two political subdivisions.

Circleville Twp. will have received $170,118. Here is the totals for what other political subdivisions will receive in total by Dec. 31:

Ashville, $42,166; Commercial Point, $4,379; Darbyville, $3,132; New Holland, $13,192; South Bloomfield, $8,985; Tarlton, $5,642; Williamsport, $16,857; Orient, $5,932; Darby Twp., $29,756; Deercreek Twp., $33,689; Harrison Twp., $66,499; Jackson Twp., $18,704; Madison Twp., $27,267; Monroe Twp., $23,000; Muhlenberg Twp., $25,559; Perry Twp., $30,390; Pickaway Twp., $75,318; Saltcreek Twp., $28,443; Scioto Twp., $93,824; Walnut Twp., $30,098; Washington Twp., $32,248; Wayne Twp., $10,791.

The urban and rural areas share almost equally in per capita shares of federal revenue sharing funds.

Showers Continue Across East

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thundershowers continued in the Midwest and South early today as a slow moving frontal system brought showers and thundershowers to the Mississippi Valley with some activity spreading into the western portions of the Ohio Valley and Great Lakes.

Severe weather lingered in some areas. A tornado struck Natchitoches, La., on Tuesday killing one person, and another twister hit Zion, Ill., damaging homes in a 12-block area.

A few showers and thundershowers were scattered over the central and southern Appalachians and middle Atlantic states.

There were isolated showers with snow in the higher elevations over the northern Rockies but amounts were quite light. Clear or partly cloudy skies prevailed across most the nation.

Temperatures around the nation at 2 a.m. EST ranged from 77 at Middletown, Pa., to 9 at Devils Lake, N.D.

The National Weather Service forecast for today calls for showers over the Pacific northwest coast, central Montana and the central Rockies. Showers and thunderstorms will be spread from Georgia and Alabama through the Ohio Valley into the Great Lakes. It will be cooler in the upper Missouri Valley and northern Rockies. Temperatures will remain warm to hot from eastern portions of the Ohio Valley through southern New England and the middle Atlantic coastal states. It will be fair from the southern Atlantic Coast through the Gulf of Mexico states, over most of the plains, in the southwest and the middle Pacific Coast and great basin.

Fairfield Heritage Assn. Plans Lancaster Homes Tour

THE GEORGIAN—Headquarters for the Heritage Pilgrimage 1976 tour of homes in Lancaster on May 1 and 2. The Georgian, purchased by and under restoration by the Fairfield Heritage Assn. will be headquarters for the tour.

Dottie Carpenter of Circleville, as her adoptive city of Lancaster, Ohio, calls her, is handling a big job. She is co-chairman of The Fairfield Heritage Association Pilgrimage of Homes in Lancaster which will bring 2500 visitors from over the state to this community during that weekend.

Dottie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boggs, 146 W. Mound St., and her husband, James, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Carpenter, 713 N. Pickaway St., got their indoctrination last year when, at the request of Fairfield Heritage, they opened their century-old home for the tour. The affable host and hostess showed 2000 visitors through their home.

Planning for the current tour began last summer with her general chairman, Mrs. Wayne Custer, in the selection of homes and appointment of committees of 50 men and women to work on the project.

Pilgrimage 1976 opens five semi-private buildings and six private homes dating from 1810 to 1970. Semi-private are on view from 11 a.m.-6 p.m. each day; private from noon until 6 p.m., May 1 and 2.

Accents in old mansions but included are homes of later years remodeled to conform to Lancaster environment. All use family heirlooms and antique collections for family life style 1976.

Headquarters are in The Georgian, the 1833 landmark in downtown Lancaster bought by and under restoration by Fairfield Heritage Association as a living museum for public use. Proceeds of the tour go to this project. Tickets can be purchased here on tour days.

Semi-private homes include: Sherman House (1811) birthplace of Gen. Sherman and brother John, early U.S. Senator and father of Anti-Trust

Conservationist Don Archer Speaker For April Meeting Of Circleville Garden Club

Don Archer, Director of the U.S. Soil Conservation Program in Pickaway County, was the speaker for the April meeting of the Circleville Garden Club at the Pickaway County Historical Museum. Members of Logan Elm, Solaqua and Deercreek Garden Clubs were guests for the evening. The hostesses were Elizabeth Tolbert, Wilmine Haecker, Mrs. Hazel Neff, Eleanor Craig and Mary Ruth Tolbert.

During the brief business meeting conducted by Dhel Renick, the club members voted to finance the replanting of evergreen landscaping in front of the Coliseum at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds this spring. Approval was also given for co-sponsoring a conservation contest in the fifth grades of Cricleville Schools.

Franklin Gwinn reported the completion of arrangements for club members and their guests to travel by chartered bus to Kingwood Center and Gardens at Mansfield on May 8. A luncheon will be served at the Tiffin and Toffee Restaurant, Mansfield. The trip will include tours of the gardens, greenhouses, and wild flower trails. An art show and a model circus show are special features for this weekend.

For the evening's program, Mrs. Archer presented color slides showing the changes in agriculture that have affected the use and concern for the wasteful practices that are now depleting the limited amount of fertile top soil. He illustrated irresponsible land use and disregard for conservation practices that will produce critical problems for future generations.

The development of technocracy in farm machinery and the economic pressures on farmers are creating current problems in agriculture which affect both the city-dweller and those in rural areas. Reduction in the number of family sized farms and the increase in large corporate holdings of land have shifted the political power to industrial and commercial developers. Much of the best and most fertile land for food production is being diverted into non-agricultural purposes. A farm today represents a large capital investment, and the large acreages have reduced the number of persons engaged in farming with a consequent reduction of their voice in legislative questions.

Akron Men Face 20 Felony Charges After Investigation

The three Akron men arrested early Tuesday morning by Circleville Police have each been charged with a total of 11 counts of grand theft and nine counts of breaking and entering by Police and Sheriff's Deputies.

The charges stem from the recovery by police of a large assortment of merchandise found in the men's car. The items were taken in burglaries of parked cars in Ashville and Circleville and at a subdivision on Swackhammer Road.

Recovered items included 11 citizen band radios and two FM stereo, eight-track tape player combination units.

The men arrested are Ricky Lee Hicks, 19, Akron; Robert T. Hart, 18, Akron; and Steven Smith, 19, Akron.

In addition, the three were charged with criminal trespassing by Circleville Police. Smith was also charged with falsification.

They are currently being detained under $10,000 bond on the trespassing charge. However, Circleville Police Sgt. Larry Pontious, who broke the case Tuesday, said today that he would seek $5,000 bond on each count and charge.

Sgt. Pontious, working with Ptl. Robert Galer and Jim Ford, and civilian dispatcher Mark Hoffman, arrested the men Tuesday from various hiding places in the city's near north side after an alert resident spotted the trio ransacking cars in the vicinity.

According to Sheriff's Detective Don Thompson, the men were apparently frightened from Ashville shortly after midnight when a siren activated in a car they were attempting to enter.

According to theft reports, the Akron men then attacked cars in the Swackhammer Road subdivision before moving to Circleville.

Additional thefts cleared with their arrest, and not reported in Tuesday's edition of The Herald, include the theft of a Midland 23-channel CB radio, sunglasses, photos, and a bank deposit book owned by Bobby Mayo, 1162 Atwater Ave.; and the break-in and attempted theft of a CB radio from a car owned by Jerome Wexler, 171 Montclair Ave.

Paul Johnson, 584 Woodland Dr., found a .22 caliber rifle in his yard Tuesday. The rifle, loaded with one shell, had been taken from a car owned by Charles B. Smith, 113 Maple St., Ashville.

Earl (Peck) Wolfe, 890 N. Court St., located a fire extinguisher and CB radio antenna taken from a truck owned by J. Phillip Brown, 123 Park St. Items were found by Wolfe in his yard.

Sgt. Pontious said that the three men all have criminal records.

Smith, recently paroled from the Ohio Penitentiary, was served with a summons to appear on a bad check charge by Sheriff Dwight Radcliff. He has a criminal record of breaking and entering and grand theft, including a conviction in local courts for a theft at Tink's Tavern, now R. and N. Steele's.

Hicks was paroled from the Ohio Penitentiary two months ago. He had been serving a sentence for aggravated burglary.

Hart, who just turned 18, has no criminal record as an adult. However, he has been arrested 20 times as a juvenile, Sgt. Pontious said.

Detective Thompson is waiting on a fingerprint comparison to determine if the men were involved in similar robberies of parked cars at the Lockbourne Lodge Trailer Court recently. He said that additional charges will be filed if necessary.

First CCCU To Show 'Thief In The Night'

The film, "A Thief in the Night", will be shown at the First Church of Christ in Christian Union, 435 East Ohio Street, 7:30 p.m. tonight.

This picture is about Bible prophecy. The story is about Patty, an average girl caught up in living for the present. The film portrays with devastating reality the Biblical prediction, "There will be no place to hide."

Rev. H. David Cyrus pastors the church.

Fire Destroys Barn, Contents

A barn at Selmar L. Lehmann's 8500 Jackson Pike home and its contents were destroyed by fire 7:15 a.m. Wednesday.

This fire was believed to have been caused by lightning from an electrical storm that moved across Central Ohio about sunrise.

Scioto Twp. Fire Fighters, and firemen from the Jackson Twp. Department, Franklin County, moved in to put out the blaze, which destroyed the barn.

Items lost in the blaze included 40 to 50 tons of straw, four to five tons of hay, hog feeders, and farrow wing crates and plows.

Lehmann managed to release six hogs which were trapped in the barn, allowing them to safely escape.

Thomas Beard, Washington C.H., told Sheriff's Deputies that thieves took a saddle, bridle, and blanket from a barn on the Sarah J. Hosler farm.

The farm is located on Route 56, two-tenths of a mile west of the Lester Mill Road.

The items are valued at $190.

Vandals apparently used a BB gun to shatter the rear window of a camper top owned by Elsworth Nungester, 11643 Randolph St., Ashville, last night.

South Central Power Announces Assignments

Three major reassignments among key personnel in the South Central Power Company, were announced today by R. Dane Swinehart, general manager of the locally-owned utility.

EARL WATKINS

Earl Watkins, formerly district manager of the Canal Winchester office, will assume the duties of manager of data processing and management systems, a new position. In the new post Watkins will have the status of a department head and he will report to the general manager. The new department has been created to insure a continuing program of feasibility studies and design work in connection with the systems and procedures used throughout the company. In addition, Watkins will devote more time to the analysis, improvement and-or implementation of existing and proposed computer applications for the company.

Watkins, employed by South Central since 1966, will maintain his new departmental office in the Canal Winchester Branch of the company. During his employment with South Central he has held the positions of chief accountant, system supervisor and district manager. He and his wife, Gloria, are the parents of three children, Earl Douglas, Carole and David, and they reside at Route 1, Groveport. They are members of the Hopewell Methodist church.

George R. Hritz, a 30-year employee and presently district manager of the Circleville office, will have his duties expanded to include supervision of the Canal Winchester office as well. His new title will be district manager — Canal Winchester and Circleville.

GEORGE (BUD) HRITZ

Hritz went to work as a groundman for South Central in 1946. Since then his duties have included those of a lineman, a clerk-dispatcher and a field representative in the public relations department. He also served as Manager of the Consumers Water Company, a South Central Power subsidiary company. He and his wife, Virginia, live on Forest Drive in Circleville. They have two children, Leigh Ann and Michael, and are members of the Community United Methodist Church.

Monroe School Hosts PTO, Science Fair

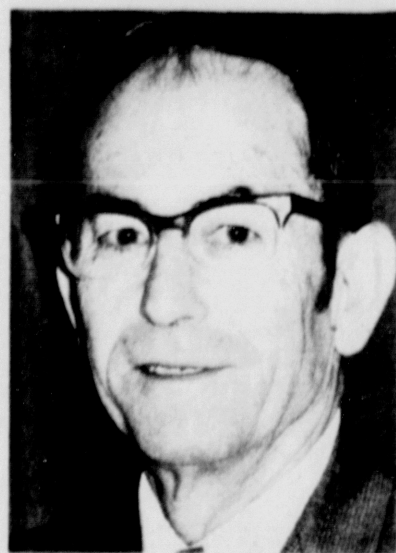

Monroe Elementary School hosted the regular Parent Teacher Organization meeting and open house on April 12. More than 300 parents, friends, and students enjoyed viewing the various art and craft displays. Parents were invited to view examples of the children's work from the daily curriculum as they visited with the teachers in each room.

Also on display were the various social studies projects from the fifth grade including a quilt on which each child had made a state and knotted the capital in the correct position. Dipped candles standing in handmade candle holders and handwoven wash cloths were also on display. Models of Indian homes and artifacts of 17 different tribes studied in the classroom completed the social studies projects.

The key attraction for the evening was the fifth and sixth grade science fair in which 85 students exhibited over 60 projects.

There was no special preparation for the event since the displays were a collection of the students' work throughout the year.

To provide additional assistance to Hritz in the management of the Circleville branch, Samuel B. Allen will be assigned to full-time duty in that office as field representative, commercial and residential advisor. Allen, an employee of South Central since 1956, has been a field representative working out of the Lancaster headquarters. Besides his work in the public relations department, Allen has also served as a distribution engineer.

SAM ALLEN

He and his wife, Dorothy, live at 311 Woodview Drive in Canal Winchester. They have two children, Mrs. Ronald (Nancy) Schooler of Wapakoneta, Dennis Allen of Canal Winchester, and five grandchildren. They are members of Faith United Methodist Church and Allen has served two terms on the Canal Winchester Village Council.

Squirrels Too Much

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — After 22 years of fighting the squirrels that were chewing on the roof of her house, Miss Alvina Holman decided to complain to the police.

Not one to pass the squirrel, a neighborhood assistance officer entered a "disorderly squirrel" incident on his log.

The investigation was then referred to the county humane society, which in turn said that squirrels, disorderly or not, come under the jurisdiction of the state wildlife division.

Meanwhile, a helpful neighbor repaired the roof and placed wire mesh over the holes gnawed in the house by the perpetrators.

Miss Holman, 73, was not amused by the situation: "I've been fighting these squirrels for 22 years now, and one night I just sat down and cried."

Miss Holman, incidentally, lives on Old Orchard Avenue in Dayton, one block from Squirrel Road.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

She Says Step-Son Should Sub In

DEAR ABBY: I know I've done wrong, but please help me because I'm in such a mess I don't know what to do.

I was 15 when my mother died, so my father and I "batched it" for nearly two years. My father finally decided to marry Neva who was 37 and fairly nice-looking. Dad was 57.

Everything would have been fine if I had had any sense, but I started fooling around with Neva when my father was at work. Neva got pregnant. I was scared out of my wits, but Neva said she could make my father think the baby was his, so I shouldn't worry.

Neva had twin boys, and my father was the happiest man on earth. Everything was working out fine until the twins were 8-months-old. Then, with no warning, my father had a heart attack and died. Neva and I were in a state of shock for several days and didn't know what to do.

My father left enough insurance, cash and property for Neva and the twins to live comfortably and for me to go to college. She wants me to marry her and help her raise the twins! She says they are as much mine as hers. I want to do what's right, but I don't want to live with Neva the rest of my life. Please help me.

TRAPPED
DEAR TRAPPED: The twins could be your father's and legally they are his sons, so don't feel duty-bound to marry Neva and sacrifice your college education to stay home and help raise the boys. Keep a respectable distance from Neva, and with a little luck she'll find another man.

DEAR ABBY: Whenever I attend a double-ring ceremony, I wonder if the bride and groom realize that there is no justification whatsoever for a man's wearing a wedding ring.

The wedding ring is a symbol of bondage of females in marriage. It's the last relic of the collar and shackles with which captive and purchased brides were (and in some parts of the world still are) bound to their male masters.

I quote from an old German prayer book (1888):

"The wedding ring is for the bride only and is a symbol of her bondage, subjection to and obedience to her master; a sign that she is now no longer free and independent, but that she is bound and chained under the mastery of her husband."

HISTORY BUFF
DEAR BUFF: Thanks for pointing out the progress we've made since 1888.

DEAR ABBY: My husband says that I snore, but I know I don't. One thing I know for certain is that HE snores; and if I don't fall asleep before he does, I am up all night. He tells ME that HE is up all night because of MY snoring, which is ridiculous because if he were up he wouldn't be keeping ME up with his snoring.

How can we find out the truth? Don't suggest we have a third party sleep with us as I am very old-fashioned.

HATTIE
DEAR HATTIE: Buy, rent or borrow a tape recorder and turn it on when you both retire. Whoever is awake while the other is snoring should say, "I am awake so YOU must be snoring!" And that should settle it! Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Banker Speaks To Students

The series of programs planned for the county high school special education students will continue this Friday afternoon at Logan Elm when James Fosnaugh, vice president of the First National Bank, will give a filmstrip presentation about the many services provided by a bank.

After the presentation a discussion of the convenience of checking accounts, loans, interest paid, the need for a safety deposit box, and the importance of saving a portion of each paycheck in a savings account, will take place. A question and answer session will follow.

This is the sixth program given by business and community leader for the county school classes. These representatives come on their own time and at their own expense to provide the students with the basic knowledge needed for community living after graduation.

Liquor Permit Law Changes Set

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Local governments would have more authority to help get rid of undesirable liquor spots under a House bill that won unanimous Senate approval Tuesday.

It provides that local governments not only may challenge the renewal of liquor permits in their areas but also may become a full partner in hearings on contested permits and may appeal decisions adverse to them from the liquor commission into the state court system.

Sen. Jerome P. Stano, D-24 Parma, and others said the bill is long overdue and gives communities more say in legal proceedings designed to weed out from residential areas those bar and tavern owners who flaunt liquor laws and create disturbances.

Padres Trip Reds, 7-5

CINCINNATI (AP) — Jerry Turner counts himself among the San Diego Padres' new breed.

"Things are gonna happen here. There's a positive feeling...a change for the better coming," said the 22-year-old reserve outfielder whose pinch hit bases-loaded single Tuesday night sent the Cincinnati Reds tumbling to their fourth loss in the last five games.

"We have a good mixture of veterans and young people now. Some people were excited when we moved up to fourth last year. We're not happy with that," said Turner after the Padres tripped the Reds 7-5.

For a while they looked like the Padres of old, squandering a 4-0 lead when the Reds broke loose for five runs in the seventh.

Then newcomers Turners and Butch

Metzger helped turn things around as the Padres rallied for three runs in the eighth.

Metzger, a starter switched to relief, produced his sixth straight scoreless appearance with 2-3 innings of hitless ball.

"Beating these guys is something extra special," beamed Metzger, who was 15-7 as a starter for the Padres' Class AAA team in Hawaii last fall.

Padres' Manager John McNamara turned to Metzger in the seventh to quell the Reds uprising.

"I turned to Roger Craig (Padres pitching coach) and said 'this guy's going to get baptized good,'" said McNamara.

But Metzger tossed water on the Reds, wiggling out of a bases-loaded jam.

"The adrenalin was flowing too much at first," said Metzger. "Then it was a matter of tunnel vision. I just blocked everything out of my mind," he said.

Turner was primed too. Admitting, "I still get goose bumps when I go to bat," the young utility man produced a two-out, two-run single to crack a 5-5 tie.

"I was watching Rawly Eastwick and all he was throwing were fast balls. So I had an idea what was coming and that's what I got," Turner said.

"The guys on the bench said 'just put it in your mind that you're better than he is,'" Turner said.

Veteran Willie Davis drove in two runs as the Padres jumped on starter Jack Billingham for four runs in the first five innings.

"Willie just keeps doing the things that have to be done," praised McNamara. "He's good for this club."

Davis flashed his vaunted speed in the Padres' two-run first inning, scoring from second on a wild pitch after he doubled in the first run.

Bill Greif held the Reds hitless until the fifth when Cesar Geronimo doubled with one out.

Greif, Mike DuPree, Dave Tomlin and Metzger combined to hold Rose hitless for the first time in nine games this season. He had hit safely in 31 of his last 32, counting the playoffs and World Series.

He walked once, was hit by a pitch, flied out, and grounded out twice, one a close play.

Metzger felt the sting of Rose's frustration. "He told 'you don't have bleep.' I didn't say anything," said Metzger. "I didn't want to wake a sleeping dog. But then I guess he's awake all the time."

New York batters hit the St. Louis pitchers hard Tuesday night—almost as hard as Cardinals pitcher Lynn McGlothen hit two Mets batters and nearly sparked a brawl.

The hitting by the hitters took place in the first two innings, when Felix Millan, Del Unser and John Milner each slugged two-run homers to help New York carry a 6-0 lead into the third inning. That's when McGlothen started hitting the batters.

"I'm a big league pitcher and I want to be around a while," said McGlothen, who hit Unser and opposing pitcher Jon Matlack in the third, causing a charge from the Mets dugout led by slugger Dave Kingman.

McGlothen, who was ejected for his tactics, continued to defend his action. "I just think a pitcher has a right to try to contain the hitters. If a pitcher feels like he's been intimidated, he has to do something. I hit them as a certain measure that had to be done."

Cardinals Manager Red Schoendienst, who along with New York shortstop Bud Harrelson was ejected from the game in the third inning, managed a light comment.

"Mac McGlothen was wild all night. I'm surprised he hit anybody if he was trying," said Schoendienst.

But New York emotions were militant against what had taken place. "I think it's bush," said Matlack, who pitched a six-hitter for the 8-0 victory.

"I really think I have no respect for the man McGlothen, even though I did before. When a guy hits a batter (Unser) after a home run, it's one thing. But not when the score is 6-0. Everybody's got to pitch inside, that's part of the game. But not a foot-and-a-half inside."

In the other NL games Tuesday, Philadelphia topped Pittsburgh 5-1, San Diego bested Cincinnati 7-5, San Francisco outscored Atlanta 12-11 in 10 innings, and Los Angeles clipped Houston 6-3. The Montreal at Chicago game was rained out.

Mike Schmidt, who is "fun to watch when you're on his side," according to teammate Jim Kaat, cracked his sixth home run in three games to tie six other players for the major league record and lead the Phils past the Pirates.

Kaat pitched a six-hitter in one hour, 47 minutes and hit a two-run double—"My first hit in three years—to help Philadelphia.

Giants 12, Braves 11
Gary Matthews hit two home runs—his second winning the game in the 10th inning—two singles, scored four runs and drove in three to lift the Giants past the Braves.

San Francisco trailed 8-1 at one point.

Dodgers 6, Astros 3

Los Angeles pinch-hitter Ed Goodson drove in Ron Cey in the sixth inning for the run that beat Houston. John Hale had a two-run triple in the second, with two other RBIs coming from Dusty Baker and the other from Steve Garvey.

Piranhas Call For Members

Coaches of the Circleville "Piranha" Swim Team are issuing a call for more swimmers to join the defending Champions of the Mt. Pleasant Swim League.

"New rules passed at the last League Meeting" said head coach Jim Shea, "indicates that we need more swimmers we are now carrying on the team just are not enough if we expect to win the League Championship for the third consecutive year."

"We are weak in several age groups" Shea said, "with the 10 and under girls by far the weakest so far as depth is concerned. We must have 10 swimmers in each age group" the coach continued "and we only have five in the 10 and under girls age group. Other age groups which need bolstering are the 11-12 girls where we have only seven. 13-14-year-old girls where we have eight. 13-14 boys where we have seven 15-17 girls where we have only six and the 15-17 boys where we also have only six."

"Although the squad has been practicing since Mid-January", Shea continued, "we are so desperate for more swimmers that we will take interested boys and girls at this late date, provided they know basically how to swim."

Assisting Shea in the coaching duties for the "Piranhas" this year are Dick Penn and Jo Laggett with the eight and under swimmers, and Sue McCrady, who is assistant Varsity Coach.

Any boy or girl, with swimming knowledge is requested to phone Shea, at 474-3650 during the day or 474-6242 in the evening, before Saturday, April 24.

Nets, Spurs To Collide

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There's no love lost between the New York Nets and San Antonio Spurs, and tonight's sixth game of their American Basketball Association playoff series promises to be a heated affair.

The last time the clubs met in San Antonio, the game was marred by an all-out brawl in which the Spurs' Brian Taylor were the initial combatants, but the Nets' Rich Jones—a former Spur—was the most effective.

After that game, San Antonio General Manager John Begos called Jones "Garbage with a capital G. Trash." Nets Coach Keven Loughery was incensed at that remark and accused Begos of "inciting hysteria" and "trying to incite a riot."

All of which provides a highly charged backdrop for tonight's sixth game of the best-of-seven ABA semifinal series. The Nets took a 3-2 lead with a thrilling 110-108 triumph at Uniondale, N.Y. Monday night and can wrap it up with a victory tonight.

In the other ABA semifinal set, the Kentucky Colonels hold a 2-1 lead over the regular season champion Denver Nuggets, and will try to extend their advantage in Game 4 at Louisville tonight.

Saginaw Gears Top Port Huron Flags, 3-1

SAGINAW, Mich. (AP) — Dave Miglia scored the winning goal in the second period to give Saginaw a 3-1 victory over Port Huron and tie the Gears-Flags International Hockey League playoff series at three games apiece.

Stu Irving opened the scoring for the Gears in the first period, but Port Huron's Danny Newman quickly tied the game.

Miglia scored in the second to put Saginaw ahead and Marcel Comeau iced the victory for the Gears with a short-handed goal also in the second.

The final game in the best-of-seven Turner Cup semifinal series is set for Friday in Saginaw.

Wichita State's three-man coaching staff of Harry Miller, Ron Heller and Ed Murphy average six feet six inches.

Circleville Girls 3rd In Tri Meet

Circleville's girls track team finished in third place in a tri meet Tuesday at Wilmington.

East Clinton tallied 68 1/2 points to win, Wilmington had 37 1/2 for second and Circleville was third with 33.

Warriors Hammer Detroit

By JOHN NELSON
AP Sports Writer

When Detroit Coach Herb Brown was asked if there was any one area in which his team was weakest, he answered: "Yeah, basketball."

But, the Golden State Warriors can make almost any opposing coach feel that way. The defending National Basketball Association champions opened their quarter-final series against Detroit Tuesday night with a 127-103 victory. Phil Smith scored 26 points.

"We were horrible," Brown said. "The Warriors played well. They can just break you down, and I'm sure that contributed some to our being horrible."

Rick Barry was held to 13 points but he tied his season high for assists, handing out 11.

In the night's only other playoff game, the Phoenix Suns took a 3-1 lead in their quarterfinal series against Seattle, beating the SuperSonics 130-114. The Warriors-Pistons series continues in Oakland Thursday night, and Phoenix travels to Seattle for Game 5 Sunday.

Tribe Demolishes Texas Rangers, 9-1

CLEVELAND (AP) — Texas Rangers Manager Frank Lucchesi said it was the first game his club was out of this season, and Cleveland Indians Manager Frank Robinson smiled with satisfaction.

Robinson's club, putting together a two-game winning string after a 1-4 start, demolished the Rangers 9-1 here Tuesday behind pitchers Jim Bibby and Jim Kern and a 14-hit barrage.

Although nobody in the Cleveland clubhouse was saying it openly, the victory was even more satisfying because it came against Texas ace Gaylord Perry.

The Indians administered the first loss in three decisions to Perry, once the star of the Cleveland pitching staff and sent to Texas last June in a trade which brought pitchers Bibby, Jackie Brown and Rick Waits to Cleveland.

The big right-hander also was embroiled in a much-publicized feud with Frank Robinson prior to leaving Cleveland and since has been the target of critical comments in a book written by the Cleveland manager.

Bibby, 1-0, gave up just three hits in the first five innings but left the game in favor of Kern after Texas scored its run on three straight singles starting the sixth.

The 6-foot-5 Kern, a sorearmed hurler much of last year, ended the threat by getting Jeff Burroughs to hit into a double play and striking out Roy Howell. He was nearly untouchable the rest of the way, giving up just two ninth-inning singles.

"You go out and pitch against hitters," Kern said. "I wasn't pitching against Gaylord, I was pitching against the Texas hitters."

Noting that Perry taught him his "small slider," Kern added, "I just didn't think much about him pitching for them. I was mostly the fast ball. There wasn't too much finesse today."

Bibby also shrugged off the fact he beat his old teammates and the man he was traded for.

"I'm pitching for Cleveland now and I don't think about Texas," he said. "You always have to be on your P's and Q's when you pitch against the other team's top pitchers. He (Perry) normally isn't going to give you much to work with."

Infighting Hits Aeros

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Houston Aeros open their chase for a third consecutive World Hockey Association championship tonight after spending the last two weeks fighting amongst themselves to pass the time.

The two-time titlists haven't played hockey in anger since April 6, when the regular season came to a close, and are threatened with staleness in the opener of their United States divisional semifinal against the San Diego Mariners.

"I feel stale," says 48-year-old Aeros President Gordie Howe. "But it doesn't bother me as much when I hear some of the younger guys say the same thing. At least I know I'm not the only one."

The pressures of just sitting around apparently have gotten to some of the other Aeros.

"We couldn't schedule a scrimmage today because in our last two practices we've had four fights," Houston Coach Bill Dineen added Tuesday.

Former major league infielder John Goryl will manage Reno in the California league during the 1976 baseball season.

The 1977 Walker Cup golf matches will be played at the Shinnecock Hills Golf Club in Southampton, N.Y.

Ryan, Angels Blank Birds, 5-0

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

Nolan Ryan's actions speak louder than his words.

To listen to the California Angels' charismatic pitcher, you'd think he's really having his problems.

"I'm still fighting my rhythm and my delivery," he said in the Angels dressng room at Anaheim Stadium Tuesday night. "Maybe I need more work, maybe it's the five-man rotation we have ... I'm just not in the proper groove."

Sounds like he'd just been knocked from the box by a barrage of home runs, right?

Actually, the hard-throwing right-hander had just blanked the Baltimore Orioles on three hits, pitching the Angels to a 5-0 victory. What's more, he struck out 12 batters, the 72nd time in his brilliant career he's fanned 10 or more but the first time since June 14, 1975.

Elsewhere in the American League, the Cleveland Indians defeated the Texas Rangers 9-1, the New York Yankees edged the Chicago White Sox 5-4, the Boston Red Sox routed the Minnesota Twins 12-3, the Milwaukee Brewers edged the Kansas City Royals 5-4 and the Oakland A's beat the Detroit Tigers 6-5.

Ryan, 2-1, has allowed eight hits in 25 innings this season. He stopped Kansas City on four hits last week, after losing his first start of the season against Oakland even though he only allowed one hit in the seven innings he worked.

Bill Melton drove in three runs with a double and a single to back Ryan's 24th Career shutout, and Dave Chalk added three hits.

Melton singled home one run in the sixth and doubled in two more in the seventh, bringing his season RBI total to 10. Sacrifice flies by Chalk and Jerry Remy accounted for the other Angels runs.

Red Sox 12, Tigers 3

The Red Sox, held to six home runs in their first nine games, raked Tiger pitchers for four homers Tuesday night. Dwight Evans drove in four runs with a homer and a double, while Jim Rice, Carl Yastrzemski and Carlton Fisk also homered.

Yankees 5, White Sox 4

RBI singles by Thurman Munson

and Chris Chambliss helped the Yankees beat Chicago behind the standout relief pitching of Tippy Martinez, who held the White Sox scoreless for five innings.

Martinez replaced starter Dock Ellis in Chicago's four-run third and held them scoreless until the eighth, when he gave way to Dick Tidrow and then Sparky Lyle.

Indians 9, Rangers 1

Gaylord Perry returned to Cleveland, only to be routed in a seven-run seventh inning and tagged with the loss. Alan Ashby's two-run single and Frank Duffy's two-run double highlighted the burst, though both came off relievers who followed Perry, traded by the Indians last June.

Brewers 5, Royals 4

Pedro Garcia drove in two runs and scored twice to pace the Milwaukee attack in a game twice delayed by rain, for a total of one hour 22 minutes.

Pete Broberg checked the Royals on two hits through five innings, then Billy Champion and Ed Rodriguez preserved the victory.

A's 6, Tigers 5

Don Baylor, obtained from Baltimore in the controversial Reggie Jackson trade, singled home Claudell Washington to cap a three-run rally in the ninth that lifted Oakland to victory. Joe Rudi had tied the game with a two-run single.

BIG BEAR VALUE HOMEMAKER'S HINT

Versatility and economy are two important reasons for choosing ground beef. These two factors have made ground beef one of the most popular meats.

In our supermarkets we sell three types of ground beef. They are identified by the percentage of fat to lean in the meat.

The 70 per cent lean ground beef was formerly called hamburger and is excellent for casseroles, chili, soups or stews. The 77 per cent lean ground beef, sometimes known as ground chuck, is used in sandwiches, meat loaves, meatballs and all recipes calling for ground beef.

The 83 per cent lean ground beef contains the least amount of fat and was formerly called extra lean ground beef or ground round. It is excellent in all ground beef recipes and is good for low fat cooking. Because of the low fat content, patties made from this ground beef should be cooked to just rare or medium doneness.

Ground beef provides three to four servings per pound of meat and can be stretched even further when it is mixed with bread crumbs, pasta, vegetables and other foods in main dish items.

This recipe is a new approach to meat balls.

STUFFED MEATBALLS

1 3 oz. Can Mushroom Pieces	1 Cup Dry Bread Cubes
2 Tblsps. Chopped Onion	(About Two Slices)
1/2 Cup Chopped Celery	1 lb. Ground Beef
2 Tblsps. Butter Or Margarine	2/3 Cup Evaporated Milk
1/2 Cup Sharp Cheddar Cheese	1 Can Cream Of Chicken Soup
1/4 Tsp. Sage

Drain mushrooms, reserving liquid. Cook onion and celery in butter. Combine onion and celery with 1/4 cup of mushrooms, cheese, sage, bread cubes, 1/4 tsp. salt and a dash of pepper. Toss with two or three tablespoons mushroom liquid or until moist.

Mix ground beef with 1/2 cup evaporated milk and 1 teaspoon salt. On waxed paper, shape meat into five circles, about 6 inches in diameter each. Spoon stuffing into the center of each circle. Pull up edges over stuffing and seal. Bake in a 1 1/2 qt. casserole, uncovered, at 350° F. for 45 minutes.

Combine soup with remaining mushrooms and evaporated milk in a saucepan and heat through. To serve, spoon sauce over meatballs. This recipe makes five servings.

Atwater
Fun Night
Scheduled

Final plans have been completed for the Atwater PTB Family Fun Night. Mrs. Nancy McCain and Mrs. Dell Halm, co-chairwomen of the program, have announced that the fun night will be held April 23, 5 to 9 p.m. at the school. Fun night is the group's only fund raising project.

Funds from last year's event were used to purchase encyclopedias for the school. This year, the PTB hopes to purchase a microscope for the Atwater students.

The jitney dinner menu, under the direction of Mrs. Barbara Armstrong, consists of sloppy joes, hot dogs, salad, potato chips, pie, cupcakes, milk, pop and coffee.

There are 14 game rooms and prizes for everyone. Three other classrooms will also be available for visits and yet another will be available for picture taking in a historical setting.

A sweet tooth booth will be available with cakes, cookies, pies and candy.
